THE SCOTCH RAILWAY STRIKE. THE TRAINMEN AT WORK NEARLY WORN OUT-THE STRIKERS ENCOURAGED.

Glasgow, Jan. 7 .- The employes of the railroads who are now at work along the lines complain sullenly of the exhaustion and fatigue they are forced to endure as a result of the long battle against the strikers. Some of them say they have been compelled to remain veteran guards or conductors upon the various lines clothes. Several mothers, with their young children have been instructed, in order to avert accidents, to travel in the engine cabs, beside the new engineers. In order to show the latter the road, and to explain the significance of the different signals. The porters or brakemen are acting as conductors, and considerable confusion and delay in ticket cancelling thereby results, to the intense annoyance of the general public. There seems to be considerable difficulty in procuring the necessary number of locomouves for the proper working of the passenger and freight traffic.

The hopes of the strikers were considerably raised te-day by a dispatch received from Dundee to the effect that John Burns, the Socialist leader, had made a fervid address on behalf of the Scotch rathroad strikers to a crowd of about 3,000 dock laborers. The latter were wrought to such a pitch of enthusiasm by Burns's address that they almost unanimously agreed to go out on strike to aid the Scotch railway strikers, if such action on their part was found to be necessary.

In the Glasgow district there is considerable distres In the Glasgow district there is considerable distress-caused by the strike among the poorer classes of the population, and their suffering increases day by day. It is not only the families of the strikers who are suf-fering—the latter may be said to form a small minority of those affected—but the shutting down of the many factories, etc., now idle through lack of fuel has thrown out of employment thousands of persons in no way directly concerned in the struggle going on between the railroad companies and their employes.

> This morning at 11 o'clock the clerk presented himself at the State House with a roll which consined the names of the new-census members There was considerable excitement, but no demon tration. Policemen guarded the lower hall of the State House, but all persons claiming to be memers were allowed to enter the Representatives Hall. Governor Goodell and his Conneil were present to swear in the members. The Democrat Il appeared to have given up the idea of organizng a separate House, and at 11 40 the blank aths were distributed for the members to sign While this was going forward the omnipresent nd engralous Harry Bingham, the Democratic eader, arose and said that there was dissatisfact ion with the roll, and for the sake of peace and order he moved that a committee of three Repubicans and three Democrats be appointed to consider the roll and report thereon

> Clerk Jewett told Mr. Eingham that he was out of order, but he had no objection to his talking while the blank oaths were being dis-Shortly Mr. Bingbam demanded that is motion be put, but the clerk said it was on of order. Mr. Ringham then said he would pu the motion himself. He did so. There was loud response of "Yes," and a yet louder response Mr. Binghate besitated, said he be leved the "Nays" had it, and declared the motion est. By this time the absurdity of Mr. Bingham's nctions aroused merriment. Republicans and Demerats alike began to laugh, and the old man sank ato his seat pitied by all around him. The Demgratic blustering of two months had ended in the feeble splutterings of an aged and harmless Democratic conspirator. The New-Hampshire "revolution" of 1890 ended.

> Frank G. Clark, of Peterborough, was elected peaker by a vote of 177 to 152 votes for E. B. anborn, and after electing Mr. Jewett clerk, the louise adjourned for dinner.

> The Senate in the meantime had organized, and by 12 to 9 had elected John McLane, of Milford, as president. In the afternoon the two houses met in convention and filled a vacancy in the Senate by electing a Republican by 30 majority, and counted the votes for Covernor, the figures being as follows: For Tuttle, 42,479: for Amslen, 42,586; scattering, 1,595. There being no choice by the people, the convention elected a flovernor by the following vote: Tuttle, 185; Amsden, 150.

Amsden, 150.

The body then filled a vacancy in the Governor's Council with a Republican by 65 majority, and adjourned for the day. The result is a complete Republican victory accomplished by the fairest means.

Public interest will now turn to the Senatorship. The nominations for presiding officers of the two houses give some indications. Dr. Gallinger's candidate for President of the Senate was Henry M. Baker, and he received in the cancus 4 votes, while John McLane, who is not for Mr. Gallinger, received 9. The Doctor's candidate for Speaker was Herman W. Greene, and he received in the cancus 25 votes, while Frank G. Clark, who is not for the Doctor, received 10s. Dr. Gallinger is confident of a victory, while Senator Blair has no doubt of his own election. The cancus will be held next week Thursday.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 7,-"The Alliance Advocate," the organ of the Kansas State Farmers' Alliance, in its issue to-day publishes the following letter from Representative E. J. Turner, of Kansas, to Frank McGrath, president of the Kansas Alliance:

House of Representatives, U. Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.

Dear McGrath: I wrote you yesterday, but from though lessness addressed it to J. S. Metrath, care National Hotel, Topeka. I got your father's initials instead of yours. I wrote in regard to some railroad legislation. ingalis will try to force his ejection or drive the Alliane mea into caucus to agree upon their men in order to force the election of an Alliance man, so that he can carry the party down with him. He carried it down at the election, and can carry it down with less affliction to his pride in the Legslature if the election of a Republican is defeated. Just received a letter from Farwell at Osborne, and he says their Representative does not like the Alliance candisoll little doubt that this man's action saved a named of lives. The firemen did not succeed in subdaing in leaving the power to make a roll in the hands the firemen and would vote for some good Republican and would vote for ladder that a Democratic roll would be made, but, on the fire was extinguished the firemen and the courters they can began to realize that evasive letter, asking him what he thought of it, etc. that I had not written any one upon the subject; would not be in Ingalls's way. I saw Senator Berry, of Mar-shall County, here yesterday, and he is positively opposed to Ingalls, but says he will vote for him if there is no to ingains, one says as will vote for. Judge Perkins introduced him to me, and asked me to tolk with him in his (Perkins's) interest, and I did so. He would not support Osborne or Peck, but said he could support Perkins. I told him not to fear; there would come a time when he would get an opportunity to vote for some other Republicant has been the said by war anytous to cet into the ican than Ingalls, and he was anxious to get into th deal. I told him to talk to Senator Wilson, as I thought he felt just as he (Berry) did. I shall write Senator Wilson, of Itays City, to-night, and sak him what he thinks about a possibility of my election, and he never talks. I told him you were my friend, and he co talk with you couldeutially. I have no money to spend in a fight. If I succeeded, I could and would put up s5.000, but it is difficult to use it that way; that is, promise in case of success; jet you may have some friends who would be willing to take such chance.

We will pass that bill to establish that United State clerk is for life. But I guess you know I take care of my friends. We have agreed not to agitate this till until the election there is over, for Ingalls would be jumped onto for all the places and injure him, or some of the Castern fellows might try to commit him against it. Now I will leave the whole matter with you and Hill P.

Wilson and abide results with content. If there is anything new in the printed matter that I can adjust let me know. I have just finished drawing a bill I shall introduce oney on farm security. I like it and I think you lill send you a copy as soon as it is printed. I s on the general plan of issuing money on farm security is interest of farmers instead of issuing it on bonds in the terest of bankers. Yours truly, E. J. TURNER.
P. S.-Unless Ingalls gets some Alliance votes by will completed they will leave from. Some of the Amano candidates may expect to get some of the Republicans when er leave Ingalls. That would keep all of them in the when Ingalis was out of the way. Of course an Alliance caucus for that purpose would name the man and that cod it. This letter came to Mr. McGrath's office with other

JEY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNEA Hartford, Conn., Jan. 7 .- The opening of the session of the General Assembly was attended by a large gathering of party men of the State of both sides and the struggle for the Governorship was begun in earnest on after the organization. The Senate organized 18 RECOGNIZED AS THE with Senator Reed (Dem.), of Bridgeport, as chair man pro tem., and Charles W. Comstock, of Montville, as clerk. The Rev. Storrs O. Seymour, of this city. was chosen chaplain. Senator Cleveland moved that a committee of the Senate request the Board of Canvassers to lay a fair list of the returns of the votes cast for state officers before the Senate forthwith Senator Pierce (Dem.) offered a resolution, the point of which was in the following clause: That the General Assembly is not a judicial body and ought not to hear and determine any question concerning the election of State officers except to declare the persons whom they shall find to be legally chosen, after an examination of such fair list of the persons and number of votes given for each, together with the returns of the presiding officers; and all other questions shall be heard and determined by the ordinary judicial tribunals in the due, orderly and customary course of judicial procedure. Senator Shumway (Rep.) raised the point of order that the resolution, being a joint resolution, was not in order, the sendte not having been notified by the House that it had been organized.

The point was overruled, and the resolution was After recess the joint resolution as to the powers of the General Assembly was reported to the House The House elected Allan W. Paige, of Huntington, speaker, but not until after a parliamentary tilt between Mr. Walker, of Hartford, and ex-peaker Perry, who called the House to order. The diffi-culty was over the scating of John E. Le Geyt, of Avon, a member of the last House, as a member, by cason of his elected successor having died since his election. The law was finally explained and Mr. Le Geyt was seated. The ballot electing Mr. Paige follows: Whole number of votes cast, 249; Allan W. Paige, 133; Albert H. Walker, 116,

Mr. Walker moved that the election returns be taken from the table and read. He was informed that they had not been received. A resolution adopting the joint tules of the Legislature of 1889 was prosented. Mr. Walker moved to substitute the follow-

JUSTICE OF THE ROACH CLAIMS.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM THE FORMER DEPUTY SECOND CONTROLLER.

Washington, Jan. 7 (Special).-The assignees of the inte John Roach are trying to obtain, through Congress some thousands of dollars due the estate on unsettled claims for work done for the Government. The justice of the claims is not disputed by the committee of either branch of Congress to which the subject was referred at the last session, and it has been admitted by the accounting officers of the Treasury Department, It is generally admitted that John Roach, who was a prosperous shipbuilder, was driven into bankruptcy, if ot into his grave, by the harsh and unjustifiable acts of officers of the Government, and it would seem to be no more than Justice demands that his estate should receive the money due from the Government. In relation to the justice of the pending claims a letter from R. D. McMahon, late Deputy Second Controller of the Treasury Department, is of interest. The letter bears date of January 2, 1891, and is addressed to the assignees of Mr. Roach. It reads as follows:

reply to your request that I express my judgment of the claims of the late John Roach for payment due on the monitors Puritan, Roanoke and Dolphin; I say to you very frankly that I have never had but one opinion of these claims, and that was expressed to Mr. Bunn, of North Caro-lins, a member of the House Committee on Claims.

The fact that the Puritan and Roanoke claims were pronounced just by both the Senate and House Committees on Claims, during the last session, is evidence enough to remove any doubt I might have of their justice, if I had any. When a man like Senator Faulkner passes favoring. ably upon a measure, I know it must have merit and jus-tice upon its face. These two claims passed through the Second Controller's office while I was Deputy Controller. They had already been examined and scrutinized in every particular, found to be reasonable and just and recommended for payment by a board of naval officers appointed by the Secretary of the Navy. The Controller held that as there was no available appropriation to pay them, Mr. Roach should make applica-tion to Congress, there being no other way of securing pay-The merits of the claim, however, were puted - questioned. As the Dolphin, she had been pro-"structurally weak" by the Belknap Board, although built under the direction of the Naval advisory Board, which had been created by act of Congress, vested with the plentitude of power to reject or approve the work and the only competent and legal authority to pass on the vessel when completed.

The Belkmap Board pronounced the Dolphin "structurally weak," thereby contradicting and condemning the Naval Advisory Board. As a result of the pronouncement of the Belkmap Board (or Board No. 2) the sum of $28,190.75 of the $73,160.75 then due, owing and unpaid to Roach was extinguished and he was offered $45,000 by way of compromise. In that condition the claim came to the Second Controller, who did not change the action of the Nava Department.

not undertake to say; in the XLIXth and Lth Congresses, the Republicans, individually and collectively, talked about the wrongs done the greatest American shipbuilder, and predged themselves to vindicate him. I believed then, as I said during the late campaign, and as I really believe now, that such talk was hollow and insince

Mr. McMahon is undoubtedly in error in the opinion There is no reason to doubt the sincerity of the Re-publicans in regard to this matter, and it may be added that fan minded men who have carefully in-vestigated the claims concede that they are honest and
